About this Guide

This guide is meant to serve a printable companion to the FAFSA Tracker School Resources - Planning for FAFSA Night and Beyond page.

FAFSA Tracker

The FAFSA Tracker is a free application created by Data Insight Partners to support the advancement of Nevada students towards college and career readiness.

Data Insight Partners

Data Insight Partners, LLC is a team of dedicated analytic professionals with over a decade of experience in education who believe that transformational change can be supported and accelerated by investigating, monitoring, and reporting on issues of strategic importance. This can be accomplished through purposeful planning, quantitative analysis, and data visualization. These beliefs and this work can directly support and contribute to the mission of your organization.

Planning for a FAFSA Night and Beyond

The plan below offers: (1) strategies and resources for hosting a FAFSA Night at your school; and (2) additional ideas for encouraging FAFSA completion, many of which can be implemented even after FAFSA Night has taken place.

On FAFSA night, students and/or their parents would participate in a guided session that allows them to complete the FAFSA on-site. If possible, FAFSA Night should be facilitated by both school staff members and community volunteers, including a financial aid expert from a local university.

This plan should be considered as a set of guidelines, rather than a script to be followed precisely. You might consider modifying the sequence of events or using alternative resources. Even if you cannot implement all of the strategies we offer, any efforts you make could go a long way!

The plan is designed to support high school seniors graduating in Spring 2018 with FAFSA applications for their Freshman year of college (2018-19). Again, please modify as needed!

For an additional FAFSA Night plan to review, check out this great planning resource offered by the US Department of Education:

FAFSA Night Plan

Prior to the First Day of School

1. Set the date

We suggest hosting a FAFSA Night early in the school year, shortly after the first day that FAFSA can be submitted (October 1). Students who submit their FAFSA early will have the best opportunity to correct any processing errors and meet the deadlines for all of the schools and scholarships to which they apply.

In this example, FAFSA Night will be held on Monday, October 9th, 2017.

We will assume that the first day of school is Monday, August 14th, 2017, in order to be consistent with the Clark County School District 2017-18 Calendar.

2. Set a target

Target an overall FAFSA completion rate for high school seniors. Your target completion rate should be ambitious yet attainable – certainly, higher than completion rates from previous years.

Review this great presentation by the Road Map Project \(2015\) to see targets that were set in: (1) Detroit (Slide 20); (2) Memphis (Slide 24); and Kentucky (Slide 28).

3. Prepare to Track Student Progress

Whether you use a spreadsheet or more sophisticated dashboard, keeping track of student progress will help you to focus on student demographics and follow up with individual students as needed. See additional advice from the Road Map Project \(2015\) on Slides 13, 22, and 24).

4. Create FAFSA Night section on school website

The website should include the following information:

- Initial mention of FAFSA Night (date, time, location, purpose)
- Where students can get help with their FAFSA applications (e.g. counseling office; this information will be specific to your school)

Answers to the frequently asked questions (below); see Financial Aid Toolkit offered by the US Department of Education (USDOE)

- What is financial aid and FAFSA?
- Who is eligible for financial aid?
- What types of financial aid are available?
- What information and documents are required to complete the FAFSA?

5. Create FAFSA Night section on your school Facebook profile

- Mention:
 - Date, time, location, and purpose of FAFSA Night
 - FAFSA Night website and Facebook sites
 - Where students can go to get help with completing their FAFSA
- Be sure to target both students and adults in your communication.

17. Student Recognition & Rewards

Road Map Project \(2015\) discusses the following strategies for recognizing and rewarding students who complete the FAFSA:
